Plan Christmas Play at Community Service

Churches and Community Club Sponsoring Affair at Theatre the 22d.

TABLEAUX ON PROGRAM

A Community Service featuring a dramatization of "Why the Chimes Rang," and including a group of tableaux and carol singing by the audience, will be held at the Narberth Theatre, Sunday evening, December 22, at 7:45.

Co-operating in this presentation are the Protestant churches of Narberth the Merion Friends' Meeting, and the Woman's Community Club. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel, will act as emcee. Harry Banks will be the organist.

Those taking the principal parts in the drama are Mrs. H. I. McConnell, Mrs. Henry VanDyke, Mrs. John Gilbert, Frank Follmer and Jim Bailey. A chorus formed from the choirs of the various churches and the Community Club will assist in the performance.

The committee is greatly indebted to the management of the Narberth Theatre for the invaluable co-operation and assistance rendered.

"Why the Chimes Rang" is a dramatization of the story by Raymond MacDonald Alden, of the same name published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company.

This version of Raymond MacDonald Alden's story is published with permission of the Bobbs-Merrill Company of Indianapolis, Ind., the publishers of Professor Alden's story and the holders of the copyright.

Sub-Juniors Meet

William P. Bentz, of Wayne, addressed the sub-Junior department of the Woman's Community Club last Monday night on the opera "Die Walkure," by Wagner. During the talk Mr. Bentz illustrated the theme of the opera by playing many motifs.

A New Feature

Beginning elsewhere in this issue, we present to our readers a new weekly editorial feature known as "Main Line Facts." A series of brief articles, set in box form, are being prepared.

These articles will cover many angles of information and history dealing with the Main Line. They are designed to bring back memories to the older residents, and to tell the newer families some of the facts about these delightful communities.

We make acknowledgement to Mr. Leonard W. Williams, president of the Counties Title and Trust Company, for the idea leading to this series. We hope you will like them, and will send us suggestions for their improvement.

Legionnaires Rehearsing For Radio Minstrel Show

Plans are under way for the annual frolic of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion which will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 6th, 7th and 8th of January at the Narberth Theatre.

A big double bill consisting of a presentation by members of the Post of a stage radio minstrel show and a picture, "The Cockeyed World." One performance will be given each evening. Legionnaires are busy now rehearsing the show.

Tickets may be obtained from any Legionnaire or at the box office of the theatre. All seats will be reserved.

New Principal of Senior High Chosen

Downs Announces Appointment of G. H. Gilbert of Wellesley, Mass.

Announcement was made this week by Superintendent of Schools S. Edgar Downs that a successor to the late Charles B. Pennypacker, Principal of the Lower Merion Senior High School, had been chosen. He is George Holly Gilbert, for the past ten years principal of the Senior High School Wellesley, Mass.

The selecting of Mr. Pennypacker's successor had been left in Mr. Downs' hands by the Lower Merion School Board.

Mr. Gilbert is a graduate of Dartmouth College, with a Master's degree in Education from Harvard University. During the World War he entered the service and rose to the rank of Major. Mr. Gilbert will assume his duties at Lower Merion as soon after the first of the year as his local board is able to fill his position.

At the organization meeting of the Lower Merion School Board last Monday, William L. Austin, Rosemont, its president for the past eight years and a member of the board for nine, was reelected to office. Mrs. J. C. Sellers, Jr., of Merion, was reelected vice president.

Horrors of Death by Rabies Described by Local Veterinarian at Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club

Rabies and distemper, two afflictions of dogs, were explained Tuesday to the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club by Dr. Raymon M. Staley, veterinarian.

Rabies, he said, is not only a very old disease, but a very terrible one. It is transmissible only by the bite of an affected animal or human being, and if the disease takes hold, results in a certain and horrible death.

Methods of control, and a discussion of inoculations for the protection of persons exposed to the disease were discussed. Dr. Staley drew a vivid and none too pleasant picture of the death of a rabies victim.

Child Health Centre to Be Established in Borough; Board of Health Gets Grant

New Lower Merion Leader

Johnny Pennypacker, of Ardmore, recently elected captain of the Lower Merion eleven for 1930. Pennypacker, who is a Junior this year, played a sterling game at end on this year's team. He is a son of the late Principal C. B. Pennypacker.

Give Welfare Total

The final report on the Welfare Federation drive in Narberth showed a total of $1828 subscribed. This is about $375 more than last year and about twice the amount given two years ago. Several large contributions were received and the committee hopes that the number of heavy contributors will increase next year.

Christmas Party

On Monday the Junior Woman's Club will have a Christmas party in the clubhouse, to which all members and friends are invited. Donations by the girls of vegetables, canned goods, candy, toys and other articles for Christmas baskets will be made at this meeting, following which there will be a Christmas party. Miss Dorothy Babb, who is chairman, has arranged a very pleasing program. Refreshments will be served.

Boro Health Board and Ardmore Association Will Co-operate.

CLUBWOMEN TO ASSIST

A Child Health Center, similar to those now in operation in Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Oakmont and West Manayunk, will be established in Narberth after the first of the year. Its formation was assured when an appropriation of $300 was granted by Borough Council to the Narberth Board of Health for this purpose at their request and recommendation.

The Center will be operated under the auspices of the Community Health and Civic Association of Ardmore, in co-operation with the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, and under the general supervision of the Narberth Board of Health.

The impetus for the establishment of such a baby clinic came largely from members of the Community Club who had become acquainted with the work through attendance and transportation assistance given Narberth mothers to the Ardmore Center. Its primary object will be "to keep the well baby well."

The Center will in all probability be held in the Community Club room in Elm Hall. The time, those in charge, and other details remain to be worked out, but it is expected that they will be available in the near future.

In commenting on the move, Miss Rose Ehrenfeld, director of the health work of the Community Health and

Police Ordinance Passed by Council

Force to Consist of Sergeant and Three Patrolmen From L. M. Department.

Narberth's gentlemen's agreement with the Lower Merion Township Police Department received legal ratification on Monday night when an ordinance, establishing a police force consisting of a sergeant and three patrolmen was passed on second and third readings by Council and signed by Burgess Henry A. Frye. In the process of adoption the ordinance was amended to read a "sergeant and three patrolmen" in place of a "chief of police and three patrolmen."

Heretofore officers on duty in the borough had no legal authority to make arrests for violation of borough ordinances since they were not officially sworn in as Narberth policemen. Under the terms of the new ordinance officers detailed for duty in the borough by Lower Merion will have to be acceptable to the Narberth authorities.

Dr. Charles Fenwick, of Bryn Mawr College, to Speak on International Relations Before Narberth Community Club

The question that all thinking minds are trying to solve, "Development of International relations since the World War," will be discussed before The Women's Community Club of Narberth on December 17 by Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, of Bryn Mawr College. The meeting will be held at Elm Hall Forest Avenue, Narberth.

Dr. Fenwick is one of the outstanding authorities on this subject. After receiving his doctor's degree at Johns Hopkins in 1912 he served as law clerk in the division of International Law of the Carnegie endowment for international peace. Later he lectured on international law at Washington College of Law. He now is professor in economics and politics at Bryn Mawr College, and associate editor of the International Law Journal and an author of note.

The work of the Welfare Committee of the club is receiving a fine response. Of a number of letters from the children at the South Mountain sanitarium that were passed around at the last club meeting, the following is typical:

Children's Hospital, South Mountain.
Dear Old Santa:

I bet you and your many helpers are busy these days in your big toy shops up north getting ready the many gifts for we boys and girls. I am a girl ten years old, and have blue eyes. I like to read story books and play with dollies. Do you have many dolls? We are happy that we will have a jolly Christmas like the other boys and girls in the towns and cities, and will not be forgotten. My girl friend helped me write to you, Sana.

Wishing you and all your friends a Merry Christmas and a glad New Year.

Your Friend,

MARY JAMISON.

There will be another collection of packages at the meeting on the 17th for these children.

A carillon of ten bells, a memorial to D. B. Cummins Catherwood, wholesale tea merchant, who died last June was delivered Tuesday to the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, the gift of his widow, Mrs. Jessica Davis Catherwood.

The carillon, costing more than $30,000, will be dedicated on or about Christmas Day. The largest of the bells weighs more than a ton, and the smallest about 300 pounds.

Installation of the bells was made by Enoch's Memorials, Ardmore.

The Sunshine Bible Class of the Methodist Church will hold their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John Conway, of Wynnewood Court next Tuesday.

MAIN LINE FACTS

The Main Line was not so designated fifty years ago. The Pennsylvania Railroad then had only one line, and comparatively few Philadelphia families lived on it. This section was then known as the Welsh Barony, having been settled largely by Welsh immigrants who gave Welsh names to their estates.

The westward migration from the city did not commence until about the Civil War era after the Pennsylvania took over the old Columbia Railroad. Fifty-second Street station, then known as "Hestonville," was in the midst of a farming country, and Overbrook was known as City Line Station.

Clean Sidewalks

The attention of citizens of Narberth, particularly of new residents, is called to the borough ordinance requiring the shoveling off of sidewalks within twenty-four hours after a snowfall for a width of four feet.

Due to the peculiar conditions attending the recent snow, when clearing of walks would only have exposed an icy surface underneath, no enforcement was undertaken by the authorities. The Burgess wishes it understood, however, that under ordinary circumstances the ordinance will be strictly enforced.

It has not been customary to levy fines against first offenders, but those who would keep off the sidewalk blacklist will do well to see that their walks are cleared within the prescribed time after every snow.

A Baby Clinic

Evidence of a progressive community spirit may be seen in the action of the Borough Council in voting in favor of an appropriation of $300 at the request of the Board of Health for the establishment of a Child Health Center in Narberth.

Care of its children is one of the foremost duties of a civilized community, and the establishment of such a clinic, whose aim is prevention of ill health and disease, is a step in the right direction.

Much credit for the establishment of this center must go to the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, whose members have rendered assistance in the past by providing transportation for mothers and babies to and from the center at Ardmore. These trips put a strain on mothers and children, as much waiting around was entailed, and often occupied whole days of club members' time in transportation.

The Community Health and Civic Association, under whose auspices the center will be conducted, has become famous in the Philadelphia area for its varied and manifold activities and the extension of its services to Narberth is a cause for rejoicing.

Help the Unemployed

A problem which may not have come to the attention of the Main Line's citizens is that of unemployment. Wealthy and prosperous as the Main Line is, it is not without its quota of less fortunate residents, many of whom through no fault of theirs are thrown out of work at this Christmas season and have slim reserves to fall back on.

According to figures supplied by Miss Alice Ambler, executive secretary of the Main Line Federation of Churches, there are fifty-five persons out of work who are registered with the Federation. The majority of these are men and family supporters.

The suggestion has been made, and it is in line with President Hoover's policy of dealing with national unemployment, that those who have work about their homes to be done, proceed with it at once. Such actions will not be charity but will be the result of taking cognizance of a situation and perhaps altering personal plans in slight measure to cope with it.

If there are property owners on the Main Line who have improvements in mind which could as well be carried out now as later, they may get in touch with the Federation (Bryn Mawr 675). Among those out of employment registered are laborers, skilled workmen, and chauffeurs.

A Chicagoan advocates the endowment of hospitals. Many thought that was what they were doing when they paid their last hospital bill.

Roosters crowed at high noon in Salt Lake City, Utah, and led Federal officers to two 150-gallon moonshine stills. Maybe the roosters were only cock-eyed.

A man laughed out loud in a San Francisco, Calif., movie theatre and was ejected. The only thing you can get away with in a movie theatre these days is a good cry.

While Florida has the fruit fly to fight, several other States have been waging war on the fly-by-night promoter.

Havana just had a water famine. Wonder who discovered it?

Will Hold Tryouts Tonight For Next Play

Tryouts for the next play to be given by the Main Line Repertory Theatre will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parish house of the Memorial Church of St. Paul, corner of Overbrook and Lancaster Avenues, Overbrook. The executive committee has chosen "The First Year," by Frank Craven, as the next play and it will be given in the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd on the evening of January 8. This will be the third play of the season, the organization having given "The Circle" on October 29 and "He Who Gets Slapped" last evening. All of the plays are under the direction of Julian W. Gardy, who became director of the group last May.

Large Audience Enjoys Tribulations of Winnie and Her Wise Young Man

Success marked the performance of the annual play presented by the Junior Department of the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club Friday evening of last week in the clubhouse on Levering Mill Road, Cynwyd. "Winnie and the Wise Young Man," the three-act comedy by Leta Larrimore, was this year's offering and was enjoyed by a large audience. A dance, with music by Bill Clear's Troubadours, followed the play.

All the characters were ably portrayed, with outstanding acting by Mrs. Warren D. Reinhardt, as Winnie, and Mr. Charles Hawley, as Bertie Greenwood. To Mr. Edward Miller, of Stoneway Lane, Bala, who directed the play, is due a great deal of praise for the success of the affair. The other members of the cast included Miss Charlotte Anderson, Miss Betty Feicht, Miss Mary Wilkinson, Miss Edith Miller, Mr. William Macpherson, Mrs. Herbert Greenwood and Mr. E. Harmon Friel.

Give Benefit Next Week

"Gold Diggers of Broadway," said to be one of the most perfectly recorded talking pictures yet produced, will be given at the Narberth Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, December 16 and 17, as a benefit for the Young People's Association of All Saints Church, Wynnewood. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Fellowship, or by calling Narberth 2448 or 2717 they will be delivered.

Plans have also been made for a Fellowship dance to be held December 23 at the Merion Tribute House, with music by Alec Engart's International Orchestra.

All-Talking Shows to Feature Coming Week's Program at Egyptian

"Street Girl," one of the most popular of "talking-singing-dancing" cinema productions, commences an engagement at the Egyptian, Cynwyd, this Saturday evening, continuing next Monday and Tuesday. The cast includes Betty Compson and Jack Oakie, who starred in "On With the Show," and Ned Sparks and Joseph Cawthorn. An accompanying attraction is a hilarious sound cartoon, "Skeleton Dance."

Next Wednesday and Thursday the Egyptian has scheduled the Marx brothers in their "Cocoanuts" show, which has achieved on the screen popularity equal to that accorded the stage hit. The Marxes are considered among the most clever, original and amusing comedians on the stage. The "talkie" version of their show is considered a perfect production, from the standpoint of acoustics as well as humor.

Eddie Gribbon and Alma Bennett are the stars in "Midnight Daddies," Mack Sennett's first all-talking full-length production, which is scheduled for the Egyptian Friday and Saturday, December 20 and 21. Gribbon, the male lead, was one of the stars in "On With the Show." Accompanying the feature will be a new Laurel and Hardy talking picture, "Birthmarks," in which the comedy team are said to excel themselves.

Theatre Guild to Present 'Pygmalion' at Bryn Mawr

The Theatre Guild of New York will present Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" at a special matinee performance in Goodhart Hall, Bryn Mawr College, on Tuesday afternoon, December 17, at 2.30. The cast will include Frieda Inescort as Eliza Doolittle, the flower girl; Dudley Digges as Alfred Doolittle; Elliot Cabot as Henry Wiggins, the note taker; Percy Waram as Colonel Pickering; Jane Wheatley as Mrs. Higgins; Phyllis Connard as Clara Hill; P. J. Kelly as the Bystander; Maurice Wells as Another Bystander; Winifred Hanley as Mrs. Eynsford Hill; Geoffrey Harwood as Freddy Hill; Edgar Kent as the Sarcastic Bystander; Ruby Hallier as Mrs. Pearce, and Margaret de Mille, daughter of William B. de Mille, screen director, as the maid.

The performance of this play will be the second in the series of outstanding artistic events being given by Bryn Mawr College in its new auditorium this winter.

Measles in Lead

Measles lead the list of new cases of contagious diseases reported during the week by the health officer of Lower Merion Township with fourteen new cases. Chicken pox runs a close second with ten new cases. Others reported include five cases of mumps, one of whooping cough and one of scarlet fever. The case of scarlet fever is reported in South Ardmore district.

Victor Herbert Festival Coming to Philadelphia

Arrangements were consummated this week whereby a Victor Herbert and presenting five of his most tuneful and popular operettas will be inaugurated at the Shubert-Keith Theatre on Friday evening, the 20th, with the ever-glorious Fritz Scheff as "Fifi," the colorful and melodic "Mlle. Modiste." Her engagement will be for two weeks only and will be followed by the petite Philadelphia favorite Ilse Marvenga in "Naughty Marietta" for two weeks; then comes "Babes in Toyland," "The Fortune Teller" and "Sweethearts," for two weeks each.

The enormous success of these operettas in New York city during the past few weeks prompted the management of the Shubert-Keith Theatre to negotiate for their presentation in Philadelphia in their entirety.

It is rather a happy thought to have Fritz Scheff dedicate this festival; there is a peculiar significance attached to the combination of Fritz Scheff, Victor Herbert and Mlle. Modiste; this triumvirate has been indelibly associated for so long that the moment either name is mentioned, the other two subconsciously become affiliated.

When Fritz Scheff appeared a few weeks ago in New York city, in a very pretentious revival of "Mlle. Modiste," the accredited reviewers unanimously acclaimed this little Viennese song-bird the foremost light opera star before the American public.

Comparisons are not always compatible with good taste, but in these days of inane trivialities, salacious effusions and mediocre librettos, "Mlle. Modiste" stands forth as a gem of literary and melodic worth. Fritz Scheff will be accompanied by the New York cast.

Lower Merion Downs Overbrook High in Opening Basketball Game of Season, 36-32

Coach Bill Anderson's Lower Merion basketball team started its season off in the proper manner last Monday afternoon when they defeated Overbrook High School, of Philadelphia, in a snappy game on the Ardmore floor, 36 to 32.

Captain Mandes and his teammates held a ten-point lead with one minute to go. Coach Anderson pulled his first-string outfit out and put in the substitutes. Overbrook immediately started to drop in field goals, scoring three from near the center of the floor before anything could be done about it. The timer's whistle came just in time to stop the trouble.

John Pennypacker, Junior member of the court five, was the star of the afternoon, ringing up four double-deckers and one foul for a total of nine points. He was closely followed by Lockwood and Bonniwell with eight points apiece. "Penny" did not start the game, but entered during the second quarter as a substitute for Henry Gane, speedy veteran of the past two seasons. He immediately brought the team out of the doldrums by looping in two beauties from the side of the court. This pepped the team up and they forged steadily ahead to maintain a lead to the end of the game.

The team looked good at times, but it was the usual opening game of the season. They go to Friends' Central this afternoon for their second try for a victory.

Villanova Ready For Basketball Opener Tonight

Coach Jacobs, mentor of the Villanova varsity, has had a busy week working out the various combinations for the fray with Textile tonight at the Main Liners' gym.

It is very likely that the starting lineup will find Captain John Birmingham, veteran forward, holding down one post, with George Czeciak paired at the other post. The pivot assignment will be a toss-up between Edwards, giant tackle on the football team, and Tom Sullivan, second-string center from the 1928 team. Tracey Waterbury, Connboy and Tom Morgan, quarterback on the football team are slated for the guard positions. Morgan, one of the fastest men on the football team, will be of two-fold value to Coach Jacobs. He has a deadly eye and is very quick on picking up his man after the shot.

Textile, although the first game of the season and very often the victim of the Main Liners, is not being considered a set-up by the Main Line mentor. The opening whistle will find the Blue and White quintet well versed in the fundamentals and intricate plays of the new system which Jacobs introduced at Bethlehem Catholic High with great success.

When the Temple Fresh meet the Villanova yearlings on the court this February 7 two foul shooting champions will face each other.

Temple boasts the services of Alex Kilkuskie, the world's champion foul tosser, while the Wildcats will have Charles Herrity, the junior national champion foul shooter.

Villanova's Fresh material has been garnished from some of the outstanding schools in the East. Herrity and McFadden, the Allentown flash, are two outstanding men. Metro Weston who captained the Hazleton High five who carried off the State championship is paired with O'Connell, the outstanding player on Bethlehem Catholic High.

The squad this year is not as big as the former Freshman teams that have answered the call in former years, but they are faster and make up for their lack of height by their accuracy in spearing the hoop.

The schedule, which is the hardest ever attempted by a yearling team at Villanova, has many games in this vicinity. Temple is encountered twice, one as a preliminary game to the Temple varsity game and the other on the home court.

Time Out

By Tommy Macklin.

Young Bonniwell makes quite an addition to the Lower Merion High School's basketball team. He is a finished player and will add tremendously to the Maroon's offensive power. Though a first-class forward, he will probably be used at center during the season, due to a surplus of good forwards.

The annual football dinner will be held for the members of the squad and invited guests tomorrow night in the Senior High cafeteria. This should be a championship dinner in honor of a championship team.

Judge Bonniwell was talking to Stoney McLinn and one or two others on the way to the football officials' dinner at the Adelphia Hotel last week and one of the sports writers mentioned that Lower Merion certainly was lucky to win the championship as two of their games were won as a result of sensational runs after intercepting forward passes as the game was fast ending. The Judge, ever a booster, quickly replied, "Well, Lower Merion had somebody where the pass came down."

Tommy would like to take time out for a moment to give credit where credit is due. This time the credit goes to George Hansell, first substitute end on the Lower Merion team this past season. To George goes the credit for taking out the two important men in both of Tip Peters' sensational runs which won the two most desired games on the Maroon schedule. Against Abington as Peters was about to be stopped by Funke, it was Hansell who dropped him, giving his teammate a free road to the goal line. Again in the Radnor game with the last second of time already passed on into history, it was George who drove Krick out of bounds as he rushed over to cut Peters down as he sped up the sideline for victory. It is a certainty that if Hansell had not taken these two men out, Lower Merion would not celebrate a Suburban championship tomorrow night as they take part in their annual football banquet. And as this player has played his last game for Lower Merion on the gridiron, it is only right that he should have recognition for his very important part in winning these two games.

Alfred Bonniwell, aforementioned basketball player of parts, is a son of Judge Eugene Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, and is a member of a famous team of brothers who play the game with extraordinary skill. Al played on the West Catholic High School team last year and was their star forward. He is a member of the Senior Class.

A member of the Italian royal family recently made the front page. But he had to get shot at to do it.

Discuss Townships' Problems at Hearing

Treasurer's Bond and Annexation Are Considered by Commission.

LOCAL MEMBERS ATTEND

Various problems confronting townships were discussed in a public hearing held on Wednesday at the Township Building by the Township Law Revision Commission. Assemblyman Fred C. Peters and Andrew J. MacDonald, vice president of the Lower Merion Board of Commissioners, are the Main Line representatives on the commission.

Subjects discussed included: cutting down the number of commissioners and electing them at large; reduction of the bond required of township treasurers (it was brought out that the bond required of Peter C. Hess, treasurer of Lower Merion Township, was $1,200,000, making him the highest bonded man in the State); the advisability of incorporating board of health acts into the township code, and the possibility of Philadelphia annexing part of the Main Line.

Among outside speakers were Peter C. Hess, Treasurer of Lower Merion Township; Horace Smedley, former Lower Merion commissioner; Charles Mebus, of Abington, president of the First-Class Townships Association; Mr. Vansant, Abington Township Commissioner; Mr. Byrmas, of Penn Township, Allegheny County; Albert Lee and Storm Patterson, assessors of Lower Merion Township, and a member of the State Highway Department.

Other members of the commission included Messrs. Reed, McClure, Scheck, Smedley, Fertig and Whitaker.

Seek to Speed Traffic For Workers and Shoppers

Thirty-five thousand vehicles in a twelve-hour stretch from 7 A. M. to 7 P. M. is the staggering total of traffic counted at Thirty-fourth street, Girard Avenue and Lansdowne Drive by Mitten Management traffic engineers. This count, conducted as a part of the Mitten Management traffic survey, which has been extending its activities into West Philadelphia, was made on an average week day. These figures are proof of the fact that traffic congestion is not a problem of the central city district alone, but is present in varying degree in other sections of the city.

The volume of traffic flow at this West Philadelphia intersection is as great as that at many downtown business district crossings. Reduced to smaller terms, it means an average of almost fifty vehicles a minute throughout this twelve-hour period. At morning and evening peak periods the flow naturally exceeds that figure considerably.

P. R. T., charged with the responsibility of transporting 2,500,000 passengers daily in its street cars, buses, subway-elevated trains and cabs, has long been subjected to the devastating effects of this traffic congestion.

During the period of December 2 to December 18, P. R. T. is sponsoring a city-wide campaign, which has as its slogan the phrase—"Speed up traffic for workers and shoppers." The purpose is to present to every citizen of Philadelphia the true picture of traffic congestion and the paramount importance of co-operation on the part of all classes of people in relieving a situation that stands in the way of civic and individual progress.

Pedestrians, who comprise 66 per cent. of all users of central city streets, can help in the speeding up of traffic by crossing at intersections and not in the middle of the block, and by obeying traffic signals.

A recent lecture on "What to Eat" was postponed because the lecturer had an attack of indigestion.

Haverford Professor Travels in Greece

Dr. Rufus Jones Describes Trip; Lecturing in Athens.

Having completed his research work in the British Isles, Dr. Rufus M. Jones, professor of Philosophy at Haverford College, is spending several weeks in travel and study through Greece.

In a letter to the Haverford News written from Athens, he describes his work of the past month and outlines his route for the next few weeks.

"We have had almost two weeks in Greece, and we have lost our hearts to this beautiful and wonderful country. We spent our first day in Salonika where we had extraordinary views of Mount Olympus, seeing the sun set over its top in an almost unsurpassed glory. We went next day around its base and on through the Vale of Temple and reached Athens the same evening.

"We have been to Corinth, Mycene, Argos, Tiryns and Epidaurus on one long trip and to Delphi on another, where we spent about three days including the journey. I wish every Haverfordian could see it in the heavenly weather it was our lot to enjoy there. We are going to Marathon tomorrow and to the Island of Aegina, Plato's birthplace, the next day. In the interim between trips I have been giving a course of six lectures in the School of Religion, located here, to which a good many Athenians have come, and we have been daily to Athens for sight-seeing. We expect to go from Athens to Naples and directly from there to Sicily, probably to Taormina, for quite a long sojourn.

"I finished up my piece of research work in the British Museum, supplementing it at Oxford and Cambridge Universities and had some very interesting opportunities to visit Professor Stanley Eddington, Bishop Barnes, of Birmingham; Dean Inge, Professor L. P. Jacks, of Oxford, and General Smut, of South Africa, who was giving the Rhodes Lectures at Oxford.

Explorers down in Peru have found a tribe of Indians ruled by women. That's going a long ways from home to discover an obvious fact.

Announcement was made this week of reorganization plans for the Miller-Merkle Post, No. 1599, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Bala-Cynwyd and Lower Merion Township. The Post's new meeting place is the Cynwyd Fire Hall by courtesy of the Active Members' Club. Facilities have been provided for storing Post property and the use of the display case that holds the fire house banner. The case will be lighted to give the combined banners and colors a better display.

At a recent meeting a vote of thanks was given the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club for the use of its basement for past meetings of the Post.

Plans are under way for a Christmas party for children of this community. The date will be announced later.

Do You Enjoy Your Meals?

When you sink your teeth in a juicy steak, cooked well but not too well; when you munch with enjoyment a good, rich chop; when you lick your lips over a nicely done roast; when you sit back from the table with a comfortable feeling where before there existed a gaping void—do you give yourself time to think how really good the meat is?

Bradley Meats guarantee a feeling of enjoyment; they make you realize how really good it is possible for meat to be.

A NEW YEAR IS IN THE OFFING!

This is our own generation and we don't want to be making too many faces at it.

What things are not right can be made right and no doubt will be.

If there has been a trend away from home, it should not be forgotten that there has also been fierce competition from the outside.

The merits of the old procedure will sooner or later be recognized and a better balance regained.

For instance, going to parties at 10 o'clock would not seem to indicate that they afford such high old times after all.

We go earlier to things we really like, even when we are what is called "sophisticated."

Next year we are likely to stay home more, fed up as many are getting to be with the wild whirl of it all, and in that case a Very Good Radio would be an excellent addition to the attractions of the hearthside.

Kiwanians Guests of Junior High School

Historic Blocks of Wood Presented to School in Very Unique Program.

HESS MAKES GIFT

The members of the Main Line Kiwanis Club were the guests of the Lower Merion Junior High School at their annual business men's luncheon last Tuesday in the dining room of the Junior High School building.

While the guests were enjoying a fine menu of chicken fricassee and other delicacies, an interesting program was presented to them by members of the Junior High School musical organizations.

The band under the direction of Homer Smith played three numbers and were followed by the Junior High Orchestra. A violin solo by William Wren and some solo dances by Ruth Rogers were the specialty numbers. An exhibition of fencing by members of the fencing club, vocal choruses by the Junior High choir and some special music by the Girls' Chorus completed the luncheon program.

At 1 o'clock the students assembled in the auditorium with the visitors and guests occupying seats on the stage. Then followed a program which probably will not be duplicated anywhere and one that will be long remembered by those present.

Three historic pieces of wood were presented to the president of the Student body, Thomas Kennedy, for the school to have made into a gavel for use on state occasions. Leon Perkins, on a recent visit to Washington, secured a piece of flooring from the White House which was taken up in 1927 after 127 years of service. The block is just as sound as it was when the carpenters laid the plank in 1800 when John Adams was President. Mr. Perkins presented the block of wood after giving a short bit of interesting history about the White House building. Everett E. Burlingame, retiring president of the Kiwanis Club, and a member of the Lower Merion School Board, introduced the next two speakers. The first, Commander Rhoads, the United States Navy, presented a piece of wood taken from the famous frigate "Constitution," popularly known as "Old Ironsides." The Commander told some interesting stories of the famous fighting ship. The last speaker, William L. Thatcher, Assistant Secretary to his Honor, Mayor Mackey, of Philadelphia, presented a piece of flooring taken from Independence Hall. Mr. Thatcher spoke inspiringly of the traditions behind the famous landmarks around Philadelphia and especially of Independence Hall. Principal Edward H. Snow, in thanking the men who presented the gifts, pledged his word that a silver-mounted gavel would be made and kept in a glass cover for use on important occasions.

Letters from the White House, from Mayor Mackey, who could not be present on account of the death of a lifelong friend, and from the Commander of the Navy Yard at Charleston, state that the pieces of wood are as represented.

In conclusion Mr. Snow introduced Peter C. Hess, treasurer of Lower Merion Township, who had just given him a check for $100 to be used in providing trophies for athletic competition in the Junior High School.

Another Cut Made by Bell Company

Reduction in Out-of-Town Calls to Be Effective on January 1.

FOURTH IN THREE YEARS

For the fourth time in little more than three years the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania will on January 1 introduce a schedule of reduced rates on various types of out-of-town calls, it was announced this week by George K. Erb, district manager for the company at Ardmore.

The new schedule will be featured by reductions of from five to ten cents on the day rates for station-to-station calls between points from sixty to 300 miles distant. Station-to-station calls are calls for a telephone by number or otherwise, on which the calling party does not ask the operator to locate a particular person. Day rates are in effect from 4:30 to 7 P. M.

"It is estimated that telephone users throughout Pennsylvania will be saved approximately $525,000 annually through introduction of the reduced out-of-town rates," Mr. Erb said, "while in the Bell System throughout the United States more than $5,000,000 yearly will be saved."

Out-of-town rates were reduced by $3,000,000 by the Bell System on October 1, 1926; by $1,500,000 on December 1, 1927, and by $5,000,000 on February 1, 1929, Mr. Erb pointed out. The January 1 rate reduction of $5,000,000 will thus bring the total yearly saving to telephone users throughout the Bell System to $14,500,000.

Some representative reductions under the new out-of-town rate schedule are shown in the following:

Continuity in Cast for Wagner Ring Festival

In the presentation of the Wagnerian "Ring" cycle which is part of the repertoire of the German Grand Opera Company, opening its season at the Metropolitan Opera House January 11, music lovers will enjoy an opportunity to see a series of performances which follows the artistic example of the Bayreuth and Munich festivals.

In maintaining the continuity of the illusion through the entire quartet of music-dramas, not only will there be unity of background in the series of magnificent stage settings, and electrical effects and costumes designed especially for this tour, but the principal roles will be filled by the same stars in all the performances.

Little attention is usually paid in this country to this principle of artistic veracity, and the casts are changed during the presentation of the cycle. In such case Siegfried may wake a Bruennhilde in the performance of the opera "Siegfried," who is not the same person seen put to sleep by Wotan in the last act of "Walkure," and again in "Goetterdaemmerung" there may be a change of personalities with the appearance of different persons as Bruennhilde and Siegfried.

S. Hurok, managing director of the German tour, promises that the casts chosen for the significant roles will continue without change from "Rheingold" to the last curtain of "Goetterdaemmerung."

A turtle race is being held in Oklahoma. Who says we're a nation of speed demons?

A Chicago Judge charged a witness in a case before him with being a "unmigrated liar." If more Judges would do that perhaps there would not be so many liars in the Courts.

In keeping with his past policy we suggest that Mussolini ought to place some sort of limitation on the length of spaghetti.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

More Annoyances.

Another contributor, who desires anonymity, and will hereafter be called Kate, sends in a list of forty-one more annoyances.

The column is really gratifying to the Uncle now. He is being constantly relieved of the arduous labor of finding new ways to intrigue you. Keep it up; your own views are far more interesting, and besides the readers are tired of mine.

It seems fairly easy to find people who will list their annoyances. Perhaps it is indicative of dyspepsia or general cantankerousness. I wonder if anyone could make a list of forty-one things he likes. Will someone try it?

One reader who is aware of my identity told me that he would send in a list of the things which annoy him most. He said his first would be "Villanova boys who wiggle thumbs at him for rides" and the other forty would be ditto marks.

If more of you will find fault, as "Jess" did last week, and see to it that the Uncle is "taken for a ride" frequently, it will improve the tone of the column and make your venerable contributor much more careful of his p's and q's to say nothing of his grammar.

Here are Kate's objections to the abuses of the human race:

Here are my pet peeves:

- 1—"What number are you calling?"
- 2—"Oh, my DEAR, it's positively too sweet for words!"
- 3—"Now my opinion is . . ."
- 4—"I told you so." (Or any equivalent thereof!)
- 5—"One hundred per cent."
- 6—"Aren't we having a wonderful fall?"
- 7—"The doctor says it's my nerves."
- 8—"I always get nervous when I'm asked to speak."
- 9—"Let's get together on this thing!"
- 10—"Have you read . . .?"
- 11—"My favorite . . . is . . ."
- 12—"Isn't the world small after all?"
- 13—"You must come and see us sometime."
- 14—"We enjoyed the evening so much."
- 15—"Won't your car go?"
- 16—"You are cordially invited to be present."
- 17—"Statistics follow—"
- 18—"Do you want to succeed? Let me help you!"
- 19—"Among those present were . . ."
- 20—"Mrs. B— entertained at bridge."
- 21—"The Ladies' Aid will serve supper."
- 22—"The A—s motored to Ardmore over the week-end."
- 23—"You're not looking very well."
- 24—"You're getting stouter."
- 25—"Are you using the car this afternoon?"
- 26—"I'm really not very hungry."
- 27—"Are you going my way?"
- 28—"We beg to call your attention to the fact that . . ."
- 29—"Have you forgotten something?"
- 30—"This program is sponsored by . . ."
- 31—"You should go to my doctor."
- 32—"What is this younger generation coming to?"
- 33—"If I had it to do over again . . ."
- 34—"Let me tell you the dream I had last night."
- 35—"Stop me if you've heard this one."
- 36—"Are you superstitious?" (As a preface.)
- 37—"It is the duty of every law-abiding citizen . . ."
- 38—"When I was in Europe . . ."
- 39—"Now just between ourselves . . ."
- 40—"Take care of yourself."
- 41—"My pet peeve is . . ."

If I remember I became almost maudlinly sentimental about Christmas last year, for some unknown reason. It might happen again, but I wish some one of you who is a confirmed sentimentalist would turn out such a heart-rending play on the King's proverbial English.

Don't you often wonder if we, simple, sentimental, sympathetic souls aren't happier than all the Menkens, Lewises and other disillusioned cynics? Our complexes and childish fantasies tide us over so many trying and awkward periods, and if we can, above all, laugh at life and ourselves, we are very fortunate.

Maybe you got over believing in Santa Claus when you were about six or eight, but I am just beginning to be thoroughly convinced of him.

As a parting bon mot, I invite any Main Line clergyman to conduct the column next week with dissertation on the historical and spiritual significance of Christmas.

Children's Book Week Gives Interesting Reactions

An interesting phase of Children's Book Week as observed in the library last month has just been revealed by figures compiled by Miss Follette, the assistant librarian. The children coming in to the library during that week to see the display of new books were asked to vote for the two books they thought they would like to read first and to express their choice in the order of their preference.

There were 113 books on display, and ninety-four children voted, many of them so absorbed in their first choice that they found it impossible to turn their attention to a second. Out of the 113, sixty-two books received at least one vote, showing not only that the tastes of children are as varied as those of adults, but also that those tastes had been anticipated in the selection.

It was not surprising, however, to learn that "Sky High, the Story of Aviation," by Hodgins and Macoun, received the largest number of votes from the boys, while "The Mystery of Palmetto Lodge," by Craine, received general acclaim from the girls, both girls and boys together giving their first votes to mystery stories in general. Stories with historical background, and stories of children in other lands or of other races came next in order of choice for both boys and girls.

Among the very little children the old familiar favorites which they had read many times, such as the fairy stories and Little Black Sambo received first choice, though as a general group the animal stories were the most popular, and "Funny Thing," by Wanda Gag, author of last year's "Million of Cats," was first on their list.

As is the custom during Book Week, the books are displayed for one entire week and distribution begins on the Monday of the following week, only one book being allowed to each child, and late on that eventful Monday of this year there was not a book left on the shelves.

Waitress Killed by Hit-Run Driver Tuesday

Miss Margaret Fallon, 30, a waitress at the Haverford School, Haverford was killed early on Tuesday near the school by a hit-and-run driver.

Shortly after midnight Miss Fallon who had been visiting her sister at 1742 North Ninth Street, alighted from a bus at Lancaster Pike and Gordon Avenue. As she stepped around the rear of the bus a speeding machine struck her. The driver of the bus saw the body of the woman through his mirror and ran back, but not in time to prevent another automobile running over the body.

Miss Fallon, who recently became engaged to wed, is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. P. Savidge, of the North Ninth Street address, and Miss Catherine Fallon, Green Street, Norristown.

Alterations and Additions Bulk Large in Building

Among the building permits issued during the week by Lower Merion Township are the following:

Walter B. Lawns & Son, of Gladwynne, will repair fire damage to the property of Mrs. James Baltz on the north side of State Road, east of Ardmore Road, Gladwynne. The approximate cost is $4000.

Christmas Gifts Made by Patients, on Sale at Bryn Mawr Hospital

Articles suitable for Christmas gifts, made by the patients in Bryn Mawr Hospital, under the direction of the Occupational Therapy, are on sale at the hospital.

The list includes dolls, toys, articles of tooled leather, reed baskets and others too numerous to mention. Very reasonable prices are being asked for these goods. The money received from their sale helps to support the Occupational Therapy Department, which does remarkable work among the convalescing patients by keeping their mind and hands occupied, thus keeping them from brooding and worrying about their illness or other matters which would help to lengthen their stay in the hospital.

The articles are upon display in the Occupational Therapy Department, on the second floor of the administration building, the entrance is from Lindsey Avenue.

The Thrift Shop, located at the intersection of County Line Road and Glenbrook Avenue, is another place worth paying a visit.

It is under the direction of the Social Service Department of the hospital, and has on display thousands of useful articles, both new and slightly used.

Today is Friday the thirteenth. But Christmas is coming.

Attendance Increases; Forum Discusses Bible

A further increase in attendance greeted Rev. Robert E. Keighton when the Forum assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arley Farmer on Woodbine Avenue last Thursday evening. The consideration of the chapter entitled, "Abiding Experiences and Changing Categories" from Dr. Fosdick's book, "The Modern Use of the Bible," developed into an interesting discussion in which the disclosure of varying opinions, tenaciously held, indicated that the Forum is true to its name—a free and unrestricted group of people with whom an exchange of ideas and opinions is not only permissible but stimulating and enjoyable.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kaeber, 215 Chestnut Avenue, at 8 o'clock on the evening of Thursday, the 19th. The subject for discussion will be "Miracle and Law," which is the next chapter in Dr. Fosdick's book. These meetings are open to all who wish to attend.

Gladwyne Estate Brings $165,000

Walter Pew Purchaser of Forty-three-acre Country Place on Rose Glen Road.

HOUSE HAS 25 ROOMS

The estate of C. Paul Hagenlocher on Rose Glen Road, Gladwyne, known as "Pen-y-Bryn," has been sold to Walter C. Pew, of Bryn Mawr. The price was reported as $165,000.

The estate consists of forty-three acres of high rolling ground with woodland, swimming pool, orchards, gardens, and intersected by a branch of the Mill Creek.

The large stone Colonial residence of twenty-five rooms and six baths with a built-in pipe organ, together with garage, stables and other out-buildings, erected by the seller in 1910 occupies a site commanding extensive views in all directions.

This property is situated on the center hill of the Schuylkill range—the other two promontories containing the estates of Percival Roberts and Mrs. Samuel Rea.

After extensive alterations and improvements to the property, Mr. Pew will occupy the premises as his residence.

The sale was effected by Hirst & MacFarland.

Heavy Gas Consumption Noted by Utility Company

Preparation of the family feast and automatic house warming on Thanksgiving Day just passed registered a new high mark in the sendout of gas fuel in the suburban counties territory of the Philadelphia Electric Company, according to L. B. Eichengreen, manager of the utility's Gas Department. The 1929 Thanksgiving Day consumption amounted to 24,012,000 cubic feet, as compared with 20,608,900 for the holiday in 1928, or a gain of 16½ per cent.

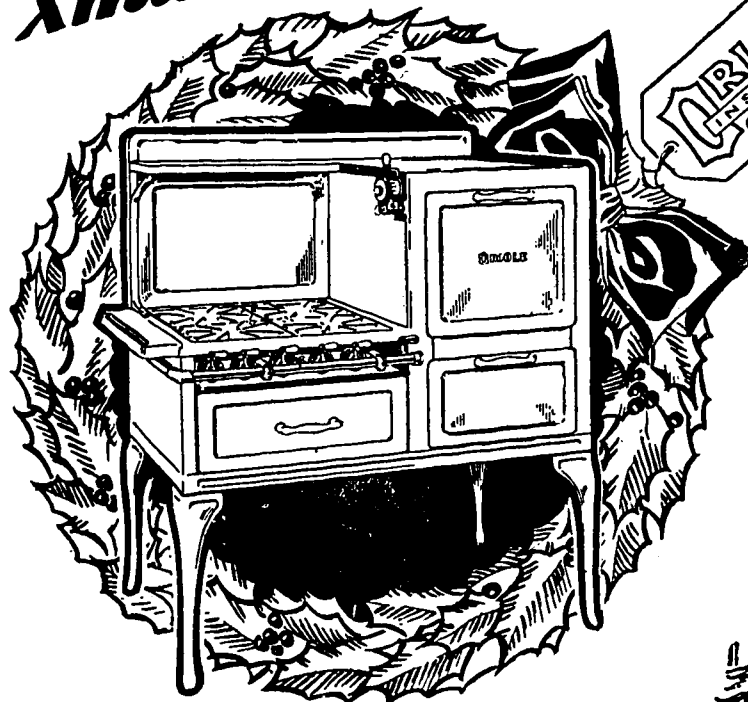

"The average temperature for the past Thanksgiving was thirty-six degrees, as against a forty-six-degree average for 1928, a temperature variant which clearly places the bulk of the 1929 increased demand to the credit for the house-heating load," according to Mr. Eichengreen. Although a certain degree of the increase in attributable to the continuing installation of various gas appliances in the home as well as customer additions created by system expansions, the basement heater has developed in the main the most important peaks of the year, Mr. Eichengreen said.

"While the 1929 Thanksgiving sendout was a record, as Thanksgivings go, it did not approach the outstanding system peak of the year, which occurred on Saturday, November 30, when the thermometer averaged twenty degrees above zero for the entire twenty-four hours," Mr. Eichengreen continued. "Our sendout on that day was 26,822,700. The day following, December 1, 1929, with its sendout of 25,334,700 cubic feet, also eclipsed the Thanksgiving Day figure by more than a million. The average temperature of December 1 was twenty-five degrees. Both records are due directly to the rapidly-expanding requirements for gas fuel in domestic heating plants."

In a four-day period, from November 22 to November 25, figures supplied by Mr. Eichengreen disclosed a total sendout of 88,639,200 cubic feet, representing an increase of 21,430,000 over a similar period in 1928, or a gain of nearly 32 per cent.

The suburban area of the Philadelphia Electric Company embraces about 1400 square miles, with a population estimated at 1,000,000. It extends from the New Jersey State line at Trenton on the northeast to Pottstown and Coatesville on the west and the Delaware State line on the south.

The following permits were issued: William H. Heard, 215 Wayne Avenue, garage, $400; F. P. Dunlop, 209 Dudley Avenue, roof $250; Rev. Robert F. The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee, as submitted at Council by its chairman, Robert F. Wood, is as follows:

As authorized by Council, this committee conducted a hearing on November 15 for the property owners on Wynnewood Court who had petitioned to be heard with reference to the charges for the recent improvements on that street. All questions which the property owners desired to ask were answered and they were convinced that the costs of the work had been properly divided and billed.

During the past month the Highway Department installed the posts for the "Thru Stop" signs, began work on lowering the grade at the intersection of Essex, Dudley and Wynnedale Avenues and resurfaced the bed of Shady Lane. The cost of this work on Shady Lane, which is a private street, is to be paid by the property owners on that street.

Our payroll for the month of November amounted to $1192, divided as follows: For street cleaning, $197.50; for ash collections (872 cubic yards) $791.37; for installing "Thru Stop" signposts, $13.41; for holidays (half day November 11 and full day November 25), $80.46; for street maintenance at Dudley and Essex Avenues, $52.74; for street maintenance on Shady Lane, $42.12; for operating roller when rented, $14.40.
